Chapter
April 24, 2010*

Dear students and parents,

It is with great honor and privilege that we host the 2010 National Math and Science Competition in Oregon. Since the inception of the KSEA Oregon Chapter in 2006, many professionals, graduate students and professors from local universities and businesses have worked together to organize this annual event for the students. I appreciate the dedication and hard work of the volunteers that have been an essential part to the success of this program.

This event has become possible by generous support from the community. I would like to thank the following organizations and individuals for the generous contributions: KSEA, Oregon Korea Foundation, San Sai Japanese Grill, Ecoworks Foundation, Korean Society of Oregon, Columbia Sportswear Company and Intel Corporation. In addition, there are a couple of donors who wish to remain anonymous.

I hope that students are encouraged and inspired by participating in today's event. Let's remember the enthusiastic support and dedication of the community and strive to do our best in this competition. Math and Science are fun and cool!

Sincerely,
